3. Requirements for the Airlines

Airlines should adhere to international aviation standards as prescribed by IATA (International Air Traffic Association) covid-19 health and safety measures.

Airlines must make sure that travelers boarding to Namibia are in possession of valid PCR test issued by an accredited testing center in the country of origin of the traveler's trip.

Must ensure that all passengers have PCR tests results that are not older than 72 hours. Passengers with PCR tests older than 72 hours or with no test will be turned back on the cost of the airline.

Passengers must be scanned and screened for temperature before boarding and those with temperatures more than 38 °C must go through necessary assessment and testing for Covid-19 before they are allowed to board.

4. Testing/Screening on Arrival

All international passengers arriving into Namibia will undergo temperature screening.

Symptomatic travelers with body temperatures equal to or above 38 °C will be tested for Covid-19 at the airport. In addition to this temperature level, if a traveler is coughing, has shortness of breath, difficulty in breathing, sore throat and headache — they will be isolated in specific facilities designated by the MoHSS until their results are ready.

A traveler who provides on arrival a valid and negative PCR result in compliance with entry requirement will be allowed to proceed to the certified tourist facility of booking for 7day seclusion.

5. Transfer from Airport to Tourist Accommodation

Tourists should transfer from Airport directly to their first destination of booking.

No overnight or stop over at accommodation/ facilities not health certified are permitted.

6. Seclusion Requirements

All travelers will be required to stay for 7 days at their first tourist facility or accommodation which must be duly registered with NTB and health certified by MoHSS.

All travelers who entered Namibia will be tested for Covid -19 on day 5 day of seclusion at the first tourist facility of their stay. Test Results will be provided by day 7 after which tourist will be allowed to continue with itinerary if results are negative. If the result is positive, the tourist will be taken to an isolation facility.

Testing will be conducted by health service providers at the tourist place of stay.

Tourists may undertake and enjoy all tourist products and activities offered at their place of stay and may not leave the premise until after the 7th day.

Travelers entering the country should be aware of possible health risks posed by covid-19 and should comply with any additional screening measures put in place at respective places of visit.

Breach of the 7day seclusion protocols is a punishable offence in accordance with the laid down regulation under the State of the Emergency.

7. Tracing and Case Management

To safeguard tourist's health and timely action in the event of Covid-19 detection, it is mandatory that tourists must acquire a local mobile number and be reachable at all times while in Namibia.

A traveler who's result of test after 7 days comes out positive will be moved to Government isolation facilities for treatment at own cost and be managed according to the National Case Management Guidelines.

8. Visas Requirement

All travelers must adhere to the existing visa requirements applicable to their countries.

Travelers from visa exempted countries can stay up to maximum 90 days in Namibia.

If you overstay the validity of your visa or permit you can be arrested, detained and fined before being deported.
